Prepayment As Usual

Edmonton taxpayers are to be allowed to prepay next year's taxes. This is a matter of course. The experiment, first tried only a few years ago, has been so remarkably successful that a prepayment period is now a permanent feature of the city's tax-collecting system. To abandon it would be self-evident folly. Last January the taxpayers prepaid more than a million dollars of this year's levy. And unless the unvarying record is to be broken, they will prepay still more of next year's levy.

If any change is made, it should be and almost certainly will be by lengthening the prepayment period. Fifteen days is not a very generous time allowance, particularly when the fifteen days come immediately after the heavy spending of Christmas. In Calgary prepayments may be made up until the first of April. A corresponding extension of time here would make prepayment possible to some who find their pockets empty after the Christmas outgo but who could save up at least a good part of the year's tax-money over the three months following.

The Home Front

In the months that lie ahead the people of Canada will be called upon to share many burdens, perhaps even hardships, to assure the safety of their great Dominion and the triumph of an Empire in arms against a powerful foe. There is no doubt that they will shoulder these burdens cheerfully, even gladly, knowing as they do the righteousness of their cause.

Among the burdens which weigh heavily upon our nation at all times and which must be borne whether we are at peace or at war is that of tuberculosis. Perhaps no one realizes how much greater is the menace of tuberculosis in wartime.

The bitter years of 1914-1918 demonstrated clearly that the years of war are accompanied by a steadily mounting toll from the great plague. The difficulties of normal life in time of war leave people more liable to infection and the consequent casualty list is no less tragic than the one issued from the army high command.

One thing the people of Edmonton and Northern Alberta can do to aid and help. They can remember and support the Christmas Seal campaign which is carried on by the Edmonton Kinsmen club for funds to combat tuberculosis.

It will not do to neglect the home front when we are asked to buy Christmas Seals.

Thuggery Defiant

Moscow of course rejected the proposal from the League that it submit its claims against Finland to peaceful negotiations. If the Soviet chief had wanted or been willing to negotiate he would have taken the course at the outset, instead of heaped demands which no self-respecting country could willingly concede, and when they were not accepted resorted to force.

In rejecting the appeal Moscow says the League the trouble of deciding whether Russia is the aggressor in the Finnish conflict. The refusal admits the fact and accepts the role, the purities of Molotov to the contrary. Whimper as he may about the fierce and warlike Finns being a menace to the hundred and eighty million of the Soviet state with its army of fifteen millions, the refusal to negotiate is a declaration of the intent to rob with violence.

Russia has thus numbered itself among the aggressors. It has made war the instrument of national policy. It now formally refuses to abandon force and submit to reason, though asked to do so by an organization representing a great majority of the nations; a request that the backing of all but the most traitorous of the countries not engaged in the dispute.

This is a deliberate and direct affront to world opinion. It is also a proclamation that Russia's pledges are worth nothing. In effect Moscow says it is going to beat the life out of a little state it wants to protect; and defies the world to do anything about it.

The Voyage of the Bremen

The commander of the Bremen accomplished a daring feat in bringing his vessel from Murrumbidgee through the nine-ninety warship-infested waters of the North Sea into a German port. He had of course fair security against submarine attack, since Allied U-boats do not sink merchant vessels without warning, and the Bremen could run away from any submarine which came to the surface to order it to heave to. The statement at Berlin, that the ship was saved from a British submarine by the timely arrival of a German plane, is only another childish refusal to give the Allies credit for respecting the sea law which Nazi commanders are instructed to ignore.

But this immunity from torpedoes does not detract from the seamanship shown by the Bremen's commander in steering his ship safely through mine fields and eluding the vigilance of British surface cruisers. No one will more readily give him credit due than the naval officers who would have captured his vessel if they could. That also is in the fine tradition of the British navy.

The question arises why it was thought advisable to order this $20,000,000 merchant ship to leave Murrumbidgee and brave the dangers of such a voyage in order that it can be tied up in a German port for the duration of the war. That unquestionably will be a fair, far to be so valuable to risk in blockade-running ventures.

Was there an uneasy feeling in Berlin that the supposed ally who is ousting Germany out of its Baltic trading area and grabbing its commercial interests there might one of these days also grab the Bremen?

Editorial Notes

Fascist newspapers are warning Russia that Germany stands solidly behind Italy in the Balkans and will help to beat Russian encroachment in that area. To what Stalin, knowing Germany can't get Russian supplies unless it dances to his tune, may appropriately respond, "O yes!"

A protocol to the new mutual assistance pact provides that Turkey may not be required to fight Russia—with which country the Turks have not on friendly relations. But that does not prevent the Turks electing to fight, or say they won't if Russia tries to acquire by force the Balkan dominance they refused to allow it to gain by diplomacy.

The Swiss commander-in-chief has been given authority to call out all the able-bodied men in the country at any time when in his judgment the defence of the nation requires. Every man in Switzerland is a trained soldier. This sweeping power given to the commander is another declaration by a neutral government of complete want of confidence in Nazi respect for neutral rights.

Considerable interest in the movement of Mormons into this territory is now being manifested. It is felt that the influx of the group were to cause trouble here, but assurances have been received that there is no danger of them exciting any disturbance. The Passing Show

By MAX FREEDMAN

Evil days must surely have come to the dictators when even the hobos of the United States refused to have anything to do with them. The exalted potentate of the Rambling Hobo Fellowship of America, J. Leon Lazarewicz, has mailed documents to the embassies of Russia, Germany, Italy and Japan. THE HOBOS severing "diplomatic relations" ARE ANGRY with hobos in these countries because they are all so completely corrupted by the common guilt of aggression. For a hobo, Leon has a most sensitive conscience. Or perhaps he simply suffers from jealousy. Tramps who confine their tricks to winning a dime from the unspectating charity of strangers must find a sharp stab of envy at the successful black-and-white practiced on so grand a scale by the more daring political brigades of Europe and Asia. No wonder the ragged regiments of the highways and byways are beginning to look askance at their comrades of the dust who are still ruled by dictators.

Lazy Leon has invoked the benign dignity of Cordell Hull to further his protest. He wants the Secretary of State to make it clear that American hobos intend to censure all aggressors by visiting upon them the dire punishment of their moral disapproval.

One thing at least may be said in Leon's defence. His articles of ex-communication do not drip with the venom and brutality which disgrace the utterances of some European leaders.

On November 26 the Moscow press, Pravda, official organ of the Communist party, declared Premier Calagayev had been shot like a snake. . . . sheds tears of grief, crocodile tears, they say, which are the vilest, most disgusting tears in the world. . . . but still more base and false are tears shed by a buffoon imitating a crocodile."

Maybe the American tramps were right, after all, to thumb their noses at dictators and the hobos who consent to remain their subjects. Even a self-respecting hobo has a capacity for moral indignation at wrongdoing.

The suggestion advanced by Jascha Heifetz that the standards of musical performance would be improved if audiences made it a practice to boo bad artists and cheer good ones is full of suggestive possibilities in many other fields besides music. A code should be drawn up to guide all audiences at after-dinner gatherings.

THE PEOPLE HAVE RIGHTS and after-dinner gatherings. The moment the speaker violated one of them he should be sharply rebuked. If the average audience showed greater respect for its rights, it would not have to listen to so much drivel.

Any politician who said he did not want to run for public office but only consented to undergo the rigors and hardships of public life from a burning sense of duty that made him wish his personal affairs should be kept at one remove from the public eye, should receive a five-minute round of booing. Upon repetition of this remark, use of juicy tomatoes is recommended.

Any speaker who emphatically contended that his party had a monopoly of political wisdom and that the members of all other groups were either scoundrels or bunglers, should be tied up in the knots of his own clumsy logic and left dangling on the platform, an object of derision to the public and a monument of warning to other politicians.

Any after-dinner talker who took a joke at which Eve smiled, when garrulous Adam first whistled it to her, should be banished to a tree, should be imprisoned as a public nuisance. All the centuries have groaned to give birth to the dull speaker as the crowning bore of civilization. Repetition to silence him should be taken at once.

An audience is the most long-suffering thing in the universe. People who know the speaker is talking through his teeth, who know his politics place while the dreary catastrophe of soap sentiment pours over their mute but complaining heads, it's his time for a revolt.

Embassador Joe Kennedy, envoy of the United States to Britain, has notified the world that he will retire from politics when his present assignment is completed. He has been the most few years watching his children grow up, and as he has a big family, he wisely admits that that is a full-time job.

THE CUP THAT is full of politics. But the moral seems to be that politicians who are that in politics. But the moral seems to be that politicians who are that in politics. But the moral seems to be that politicians who are that in politics.

Lincoln flirted with the idea of disguising himself as a slave lynchman when he passed through the city of Baltimore on his way to the inauguration ceremony. The Chinese sage who had retired from politics washed his ears of the lynchman who was asked to return to the public arena. Mr. Kennedy gives us a new version of the old Chinese story. For the time being at any rate he prefers the life of his own home to the tinseled glamour of public favor.

OLD HOMES FOR SALE Among a number of our neighbors an unforeseen problem has arisen with the passing of the years. In happiness and pride, they had built spacious homes, and filled them with families and friends. But the children have grown, and flown from the home nest. Often there is only a widowed mother there, and the house is too big. What to do?

This tragedy has been wrought by the passing of time. It symbolizes the impermanence of all things in life, and turns our thoughts to the eternal stability of the Word Jesus and the break-up of His familiar circle. "In My Father's house are many homes that never break up."

Mr. Dunning Back in Harness

It is good to learn that Mr. Charles Dunning, restored to health, is back in active harness, has joined the board of the Bank of Montreal. Many may think it a pity that Mr. Dunning has not returned to the Dominion Cabinet, where his knowledge of government and wide experience would be invaluable at this time. It should not be forgotten, however, that the pattern of a country's government, whether in peace or in war, is not entirely woven by governments or parliamentarians. It is woven as well as influenced and directed, by the character and experience of leadership in all walks of a nation's life. Mr. Dunning, going to the board of the Bank of Montreal, and becoming a director as well of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company and the Consolidated Paper Company, will be one of the financial and industrial statesmen which is most important to Canada. His influence upon the country's well-being will thus continue to be considerable.—Ottawa Journal.

Financial

THE DOMINION BANK "The extension of production and trade are hampered by restrictions and it is only on the extension of production and the extension of trade that we can hope to provide for our tremendous industrial burden." This message was given by Mr. C. H. Carlisle, president of the Dominion Bank, in his address at the Annual Meeting of shareholders in Toronto.

"Regimentation by government, or otherwise, has been tried and it has increased its losses. Success in the immense task which lies ahead requires that the Canadian people throw themselves into it with their utmost enthusiasm, and that governments would encourage the workers and taxpayers, Mr. Carlisle suggested, by the elimination of every kind of waste, including overlapping and duplication among the numerous government departments."

Continual striving to improve products and lower costs, by the business executive, the laborer and the farmer, was advocated by Mr. Carlisle. "Both labor and management," he added, "should constantly keep in mind that the consumer determines the number of people employed."

Referring to the financial statement of The Dominion Bank, Mr. Carlisle said: "The Bank's gross financial statement is in excellent condition. In practically all of its operations it has secured many new accounts, some of which are quite large—all of which reflects a higher efficiency in the Bank's personnel." "The Dominion Bank is in a sound position, and fully prepared to take its place in financing the business and was efforts of this country," said Mr. Robert Rose, general manager, in his address at the meeting. A very satisfactory feature of the statement to which Mr. Rose drew attention is the increase of $1,848,618 in current loans and discounts. The bank's total investments in securities amounted to $60,649,316 at October 31. They consist principally of Dominion and Provincial government securities, and fully selected and entered at below prevailing prices, he stated. Cash assets equivalent to 19.85% of public liabilities and readily realizable assets 64.6% of liabilities to the public indicate a very high ratio of liquidity.

Courage to carry on and visualize a brighter future was warmly warranted by Mr. Carlisle. Canada's advantages which he pointed out are varied and abundant crops, large meat supplies, forests and mines, huge areas of productive lands, transportation facilities, and a large public service and educational institutions, and the high intellectual and moral quality of the Canadian people.

By FRED WILLIAMS

Fifty years ago today (December 14, 1889) Ottawa was seemingly worried about the immigration of Mormons into Alberta. The Latter Day Saints had first migrated to Alberta in 1886, under the leadership of President Card, and laid the foundation of the present town of Calgary. The city of the largest Mormon tabernacle in Canada and the centre of a thriving community with irrigated lands and producing much beet sugar, in addition to staple western products.

Three years after the first migration to Canada the leaders of the Mormons at Salt Lake City wrote to the Governor of Alberta, then governor general, apparently asking for some concessions in Canada. The governor, of course, handed the letter to his prime minister, and Sir John Macdonald replied in characteristic manner:

"I really think it would be better not to allow the Mormons to settle in Alberta. . . . It does not call for a reply and it was also seen as if the writer desired to draw an acknowledgment for the purpose of publication. Now the Mormons are the largest Mormon body in the United States, and it would shock the moral sentiments of the Americans to see your excellency in any way recognize such objectionable persons as Brigham Young and Joseph S. Smith."

The Mormons never practised polygamy in Canada, and so far as we know they have never in any way offended against Canadian laws (in this way they differ altogether from the Doukhobors, a constant source of trouble since their introduction into Canada). The last census showed that the Latter Day Saints Church had a membership of about 22,000 in all Canada, half of whom resided in Alberta. They do not increase rapidly, the census figures showing a growth of only 3,000 in the decade, 1921-31. It will be interesting to see what the census will be in 1941.

The very transitoriness of life here turns our thoughts to the sure and changeless.

Amidst all of life's changes, our Father, we would to the stars fixed upon Thee and Thy promises. Amen. Read I Corinthians 13-15.

"If I had the money I'd get you a new dress for Christmas, and if you had the money you'd get me a new suit, wouldn't you, Mom?"

Your Health — By Dr. Frank McCoy

The orange industry developed first because the oranges themselves had an agreeable flavor which made them popular. In the days of our parents this fruit was looked upon as a kind of asset, a source of pleasure, and useful for placing in Christmas stockings. But at that time oranges were a luxury and people did not appreciate their food and health-giving qualities.

The second factor which helped in building the orange industry has been the co-operation of the orange growers in producing higher grades of fruit, and in controlling shipment and refrigeration. We are thereby able to depend upon getting oranges which are sweeter, which have a better flavor and which taste better.

However, the third factor which has helped the consumption of oranges comes from the fact that the public has become convinced that the orange is a healthful fruit. I find from questioning patients that the average patient who uses oranges or their juice, does so because he believes it is good for him. He has arrived at this opinion mainly because of his own experience, and the fact that the oranges do have a healthful value.

THE U.S. DID NOT MAKE

Although the armistice, signed on November 11, 1918, stopped general military hostilities between the United States and Germany, the truth is that no peace agreement was arranged between the two countries at that time. This did not come till nearly three years later when on August 28, 1921, in Berlin, Walter Drosel, Commissioner for the United States, and Dr. Friedrich Rosen, German Minister of Foreign Affairs, signed a peace treaty between the United States and the German Republic.

Alberta Breeders Meet in City For Second Exhibition

Second annual pel show sponsored by the Alberta Fur Breeders' Association opened Thursday at the Macdonald hotel under the direction of A. G. Walker, Edmonton, president of the association. Pelts valued at several thousand dollars are on display.

Last year's show, the first of its kind ever held west of the Great Lakes, brought nearly 500 pelts valued at more than $15,000 to the display and this year's exhibits are reported to be in excess of this figure in value.

One of the reasons for the bigger show this year is the fact that entry fees have been cut in half as an incentive to the fur farmers to take part and to receive the educational benefits which shows give.

IT AWARDS
Those entering exhibits in the show will compete for cups and trophies including the Hon. D. B. Mulren, grand champion trophy for silver fox and mink pelts. Last year these two were won by the Belmont Fur Farm of Edmonton and Madril Brothers of North Edmonton.

Purpose of the show is to give the general public some idea of the size and value of the fur farming industry in Alberta and everyone is cordially invited to attend. There will be no entry fee.

Pelts were received and placed

To the Fur Breeders of Alberta

Gentlemen:

The Government's policy of co-operation and assistance was intensively materially as promised during the last year, being especially appreciable at a time when general low pel prices prevailed.

Unquestionably, the continued assistance rendered by your Association and its members bespeaks the pleasant and profitable relationship as between my department and the trade.

It is essential during this first year of a new year, that every effort be made to consolidate the preferred position of Alberta as a major producer of fashionable fur of a prime quality, and to that end my department will render every assistance.

Drew Disclaims "Tin Pot" Story In Speech Here

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, said Wednesday that he made no reference to the Canadian navy in any Edmonton speech. Col. Drew's statement followed that of Dr. George A. Macdonald, president of the Edmonton Canadian Club, who said Col. Drew did not refer to Canada's navy as "tin pot" in an address before the club Dec. 7.

"I was ahead of the papers on my way through the west and it was not until I returned to Toronto that I learned of the dispute which had arisen," said Col. Drew. "My only reply is that I made no reference whatever to the Canadian Navy in any speech I made in Edmonton."

Reciprocal Air Franchise Rights On International Traffic Wanted

OTTAWA, Dec. 14.—Negotiations between United States and Canadian air authorities for reciprocal franchise rights for international air traffic between the two countries have been under way for some time, and a hearing will take place shortly in Washington on Trans-Canada Air Lines' application for a franchise to the United States. Hon. C. D. Howe, transport minister, said here last night.

Words of the Canadian government, Mr. Howe said, is that if United States airlines are to operate from U.S. points into Canada, Canadian lines should enjoy the same rights in United States.

At present the international traffic is preponderantly in favor of United States operators, who run services into Canada from New York and Boston to Montreal, from Minneapolis to Winnipeg, and from Seattle to Vancouver, while T.C.A. operates an international service between Seattle and Vancouver.

United States operators have requested permission to operate into Toronto and other Canadian centers, and T.C.A. have applied to the civil aeronautics authority at Washington for the right to operate from western Ontario into Detroit and Chicago.

Through The Mill

"A soft heart" is often the cause of great evil," wrote the late T. S. Peruvian philosopher and priest extraordinary. And it is too bad that a little angel hadn't read his words. As it was, he was soft hearted, and he was in police court Wednesday charged with a breach of the Lord's Day Act.

This charming little store employee walked into the prisoner's box to explain how she happened to sell the guy the sausage which resulted in the trouble. "He looked so hungry that I couldn't refuse him," she declared.

The radi found he was thinking "My, my, isn't that too bad." Anyhow, after she sold the sausage the coppers walked in and the result was that she was charged. The radi found her guilty and ordered her to pay a fine of $5 and costs. From now on her theme song will be "The still, my heart."

Another guy who double dared a policeman who had been called to tell him to make less noise, to try to put him out of the room, and then kicked the cop on the chin, was ordered to serve 30 days in jail for assaulting a peace officer. It was sure fun while it lasted, though.

Another mug who told detectives he came up to Edmonton to work at a gambling joint found them mighty unsympathetic. He recently came to jail for three months for unlawfully living without employment.

Pioneer Dies

One of Edmonton's oldest and most loved pioneers, Mrs. W. R. West, widow of the late W. R. "Bill" West, died here Wednesday evening at the age of 72 years. She passed away at her home, 1008 12th street, Mrs. Robert J. Robb, 1008 12th street, West had been a resident of the city for the past 32 years.

Widely known throughout Western Canada, Mrs. West was a life member of the Northern Alberta Pioneer and Old Timers' Association, and was a member of the Rebekah Lodge, with which organization she had held many important offices.

Hundreds of residents of Edmonton and northern Alberta mourn the passing of Mrs. West, a familiar figure in old timers' circles here. She devoted much of her time and effort in aiding newcomers to the city in the early days, and was always ready with a helping hand for those who needed it. Active in social and charitable work, Mrs. West was a deep interest in Edmonton's welfare.

At the time Mrs. West came to Edmonton there was no train service from Calgary and after reaching here she was a member of the Rebekah Lodge, with which organization she had held many important offices.

Looking Them Over

Soldier Writes Boys' Ranch Golfing Record

REMEMBER Eddie Thomas, the hard-working wrestler who coached the Vio High football team a year ago and was barred from playing with the Eskimos because he earned his living by wrestling?

Yesterday's mail brought a letter from him. He is down in Amarillo, Texas. During the fall he has coached the football team at the famous Duke Ranch and brought them through undefeated.

This Boys' Ranch is a real-life Boys' Town established for orphans by the greatest Komar of all the world's wrestlers—Dutch Mandell. It is outside of Amarillo some miles in a picturesque canyon. The boys have cabins, a mess hall, playing fields—everything.

At present there are 150 boys on this ranch, none of whom have parents. They were picked off the streets of various Texas towns by Dutch. On the ranch they are made into model citizens by a rigorous program that teaches them honesty, industry, self-government and makes them into fine physical specimens by means of training and organized games.

It is Dutch's hobby to give the underprivileged kids a break. He is financially independent with a thriving business to which he pays less attention than he does to his kids. Mandell doesn't believe in making things easy for the youngsters. They've got to show hustle and the will to make good or out they go. Surprisingly few, however, have failed to come up to the high standard set.

In the city of Amarillo, Dutch has the headquarters for his boys—a fine big building that provides all sorts of club and gym facilities. It's the maverick kids that Dutch loves—the tough little devils that have nobody to take care of them and are more likely to wind up wrong than right without some guidance.

This club operates a sort of employment bureau for odd jobs that a boy can do—window washing, lawn cutting, mowing, garden weeding and so on. Any Amarillo citizen with such a job calls the club. A boy is sent at once. Pay for the work is turned into the club funds. When a boy has earned a certain amount, he gets credit toward things he needs or a couple of weeks at the ranch. In this way, the boys continue a large part toward the cost of this project. The balance is made up by a big Round-Up Show once a year, and if there is still a deficit I suspect it is quietly fixed by Dutch himself.

One of the new arrivals at the Boys' Ranch is a fox. An Amarillo citizen owned recently and built a number of pens for the kids that compare favorably with those of most ranches. Soldier Thomas enlisted a fox that had been caught alive and untrained. Another friend turned up with a pet raccoon, and so the collection grows.

For Record Purposes

JUST to see that sometime in the future there should arise an argument about it, I hereby record that on the Sunday of December 2 and 19, scores of Edmontonians played golf over the Prince Rupert course here. With the exception of a small strip on the first fairway and in the rough, there was no snow.

This December golf in Edmonton is something that makes the cutters' chest stick out like a porcupine's quills. Most any club can crack himself a 300-yard drive. The frozen fairways end the balls bouncing sublimely distant. However, you've got to lay down straight, for to use a half hit a bit of ice or a cold it just goes as fast and far into the snow-filled hole and you just take pellet hole-by-hole with no further ado.

Joe Louis Smartens Up in Preparation For Duke Rancing
BUFFALO, Dec. 14.—Armed with a dictionary in one hand and book on personality in the other, Joe Louis, heavyweight champion, was in training for a new career—how to be the perfect boxer on a diet.

According to Manager John H. Brown, Louis' daily five-minute fight with the books has been the change a new personality. "By the time he puts the finishing touches on his 400-page diet manual, in McMahon County, Michigan, there won't be nobler than Joe won't know."

Connie Smythe Lodges Protest
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Connie Smythe, manager of Toronto Maple Leafs, protested to the National Hockey League yesterday the recent granting of an International-American League franchise for Buffalo to a corporation owned by S. Edgar Danahy, who operated the old Buffalo team.

Smythe insisted the Toronto club has first claim on the franchise under a decision by the National Hockey League last year which put Buffalo within the Toronto hockey zone for their league purpose. The governor turned the matter over to President Frank Calder for further examination.

Scona Co-Eds Win Table Tennis Title

Scona Co-Eds are still causing trouble among the boys teams in the high school table tennis league. This week they played in a curtailed schedule due to Christmas exams and defeated a team from their own school 9-7.

Mary Corbett was the star performer for the girls by winning four matches. Next week the girls play on Friday against an Echo wood team that will be plenty tough.

Players are reminded that all games that have been postponed will be played during the Christmas holidays. A schedule will be posted at the club.

Turkey Shoot on Friday To Aid Veteran Soldiers

COMPLETING plans for their annual turkey shoot in aid of the Edmonton Bulletin Not Forgotten Fund and the Sunshine Fund, the Edmonton Greater Rifle Association is ready to welcome the many contestants who enjoy this novel event. The shoot will be held at the association's range in the basement of the La Fleche Building, 10043A 102nd street, on Friday of this week, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Some 50 prizes will be given away, these prizes being donated by Edmonton merchants and business men. Special events have been arranged for the novices also have been arranged for the ladies.

INTERMEDIATE LOOP RESUMES PLAY TONIGHT

Held idle by that undeciding weather, the Intermediate League hockey office continues where the Varsity Bears and Edmonton Oilers left off last night.

The Arena Medics will clash with Jimmy Graham's Army and Navy Cardinals. The game will get under way at 8:30 p.m.

The Medics' last year's Independent League champions, coached by Jimmy Anderson, are in line for their first league game.

Anderson has his squad through several fast drills and is now well up in practice and are ready for the whistle.

Graham has, on paper, one of the league's smartest clubs. It is practically the same club which won the league title last year. They will be plenty tough.

EDMONTON ESKS H A D TUGHEST LINE: THREIFALL
WINNIPEG, Dec. 14.—Coach Reg Threifall of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, Dominion football champions, declares that "Edmonton Eskimos had the toughest line the Bombers faced during the year."

"Ottawa was plenty tough, but Edmonton was tougher," he said during a meeting of the Quarterback Club here last night. Manager Joe Ryan insisted the Bomber players will vouch for the coach's statement 100 per cent.

During the season Winnipeg won three games from Edmonton and lost the other 30-12. They defeated Ottawa Rough Riders in the Dominion final 8-7.

MINING TEAMS BEATEN IN SENIOR HOCKEY TILTS

LETHBRIDGE, Dec. 14.—Lethbridge Maple Leafs defeated the lowly Coleman Canadians 2-0 here last night, but their victory didn't pull them any closer to the Alberta Hockey League playoffs. Calgary Stampede, who in turn downed the less formidable Miners 5-1 at Calgary. However, Leafs and Turner Valley today were in a second-place tie, each four points behind Calgary.

Andy Young of Leafs marked up the first shutout in the league this season, but the sensational shots of the night were made by Bud Wolfe of Canadians, former Edmonton goalie.

The speedy forwards, packing a sound defence, gave Wolfe several dangerous tries in the scoreless first period but went ahead on a Coleman penalty in the second. Doug French finished off a power play with Tony Savage and the second goal came midway in the third when Johnny Urskai broke up a Coleman power play while Dave Farmer was off Johnny's second to Harvey Barnes who scored.

Eleven penalties were called, including two majors to Johnny Sheppard and Urskai for fighting in the dying minutes.

Stampede Defeat Miners 5-1 In Clash Featured by Fight
CALGARY, Dec. 14.—In a typical Calgary-Drumheller game, in which there was one fight and several near-fights, Calgary Stampede boosted its advantage as pacemakers in the Alberta Senior Hockey League to four points over Turner Valley Oilers and Lethbridge Maple Leafs by defeating Miners 5-1 here last night.

It was originally scheduled as Drumheller's opening home fixture of the season, but the Stampede game was necessary because there is no ice at the city arena. Despite this change 1971 patrons paid the admission fee to see a game that warmed up a play program.

They don't mind Mike Patrick, Joe Shannon, Cameron Burke and Les Threifall scored for Calgary while Ralph Smith scored for Drumheller. Pat Hill and Reg Bentley staged a lively scrap during the third period. Referee-chief Clarence Campbell through quick action prevented many other fights. The defeat was Miners' third straight of the season. They have been handicapped through lack of ice seven practices and while they are improving they are still far from being in condition.

MAPLE LEAFS TAKE JUNIOR LEAGUE LEADERSHIP

Trounce Canadians 8-2 To Pass E.A.C.

LEAGUE STANDINGS
Maple Leafs 4 3 10 16 4 6
Edmonton A. C. 3 2 10 8 3 4
Canadians 2 0 2 9 4 11 6
Next game Sunday, 2:30 p.m., at Arena, E.A.C. vs. Canadian Crusaders.

By JACK DEAKIN
JUNIOR Hockey League officials voted the team leading the league on December 25 as the team to meet Regina Abol-Generals here Christmas Day, and last night at the Arena the Maple Leafs started gunning for the honors.

Leafs' opening salvo was an 8-2 triumph over Canadian Crusaders and the win puts the Leafs two points ahead of their bitter rivals, the Edmonton Athletic Club. However, the E. A. C. also meet the hapless Canadians on Sunday. An E. A. C. win is expected on the Sabbath, which would again tie the leaders, thus making a game next Thursday the one to decide Regina opposition.

Checked to a standstill in a last first period, Leafs retired but a goal, failed three in the second as they applied the pressure and then routed the tri-colored Canadians in a four-goal third period.

DEVIC GET PACE

Sam Devick, not a flashy player but a consistent and hardworking one, was Leafs big sniper. Devick polished off three goals and scored a four-point performance by assisting on a fourth last goal. Clarence Collier, Joe Dutchak and Dave McKenney were the only others getting more than one point, each scoring and assisting. Gregorashuk and Haire got one goal each while "Buck" Newman picked up an assist during his skating practice.

Leafs "faked" their first period tally, Collier did the missing from the left side of the goal at almost an impossible angle. That was the only miscue for David who turned in a good performance in the Canadian game. Two individual thrills by Leafs gave them a 3-0 lead early in the second period. Devick earned his as he broke away from a Canadian gang attack and he finished his effort neatly. Dutchak added his tally from a jumble of players in front of the Canadian goal.

Canadians fully deserved their first tally. Harrison set the play up for Crichley who, before falling and later smashing into the boards, lifted a backhand shot over Leafs. Devick picked up his second goal in the sandwich session as he finished off a three-way passing play with Joe Dutchak and Collier. A power play early in the third

PICARD, NELSON ARE FAVORITES IN MIAMI GOLF

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 14.—Either Henry Picard or Bryon Nelson will emerge from the $1000 Miami Open as the "man-of-the-year" in professional golf, but there was no assurance last night that either of the leaders would win 189th final tournament.

As a second field of 120 wound up practice for the start of play today, Picard and Nelson were installed as favorites with four others who are as hot as the proverbial fire-cracker.

The boys who like to wager a shekel or two on the outcome listed both Picard and Nelson at 8 to 1, with Harold Jug McSpaden, Ralph Guidici, Dick Miett and Jimmy Thomson at the same figure.

Both the P.G.A. Harry Vardon trophy emblematic of professional supremacy and the money-winning leadership are at stake in the tournament, with Picard now at the head of the class in each division.

The money-winning Kramlich, however, is a four-course affair. Picard is at the top with $10,202, trailed by Ralph Guidici at $9,577, Miett at $8,800 and Nelson at $8,388. Since the prize in this tournament is $2,500, with $1,250 for the runner-up and $1,000 for third, it's easy to see that anything might happen among those four.

It is recommended by automotive engineers, that during the winter months the coal venturi should be used to circulate fresh air, because open windows alone tend to suck exhaust fumes through the floorboards.
